

RESOLUTIONS OF THE TWENTY-EIGHTH ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE ALABAMA ASSOCIATION OF FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Whereas the Twenty-Eighth Annual Convention of the Alabama Association of the Future Farmers of America, assembled at Auburn, Alabama, June 6 to 8, 1957, is now drawing to a close; and whereas it is the desire of this Convention to express grateful appreciation to certain individuals and agencies for their contribution in making this Convention a success, be it resolved therefore that we express to the following our sincere appreciation.

First, to Dr. Ralph B. Draughon, President of The Alabama Polytechnic Institute, for the use of the college facilities for this Convention and for his words of welcome, appreciation and encouragement.

Second, to Dr. Austin Meadows, State Superintendent of Education, Dr. R. E. Cammack, State Director of Vocational Education, and other members of the State Department of Education for their appearance on the program and for their interest as shown by their attendance at this Convention.

Third, to the School of Agriculture, and particularly to the staff of the Animal Husbandry, Dairy Husbandry and Poultry Departments for their cooperation in conducting the Livestock Judging Contest.

Fourth, to the judges and scorers of the various contests conducted by this Association.

Fifth, to Mr. L. O. Brackeen and his staff, and the State Press, Radio and TV for their news coverage of the Convention.

Sixth, to Mr. James Quincey, National Vice President of the F. F. A. from Trenton, Florida for his inspiring address.

Seventh, to Coaches Hal Herring and Buck Bradberry, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, for their talks to the group.

Eighth, to the donors for their participation in the Future Farmers of America, Inc. which has made possible the expanding opportunities now available to farm boys in Vocational Agriculture.

Ninth, to the representatives of the various companies and organizations who have helped in promoting the work of this Association and in conducting this Convention.

Tenth, to the State Officers, the members of the Supervisory Staff in Vocational Agriculture, the Agricultural Education Department of The Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and especially to Mr. T. L. Faulkner, Executive Secretary of the Alabama Association and State Supervisor of Vocational Agriculture, and his assistants, Mr. James L. Dailey, Mr. E. L. McGraw and Mr. Don Turner, and the secretaries in these offices for their able help in doing much of the work for the Convention.

Eleventh, to the chapter members and advisers attending this Convention, we, the Resolutions Committee, express our appreciation for the fine program presented, the outstanding performances in the various contests, the good sportsmanship exhibited and the high standard of conduct of the individual members in both organized programs and about the campus.
