The Dairy Alliance has just released the new 30-minute training “Dairy: Good for Me & Good for the Planet”. This recorded training provides current dairy farming and dairy nutrition information by exploring how cows upcycle, farmers practice sustainability, and cows nourish the world. This is an appropriate training for all school staff and students.

Click here for access to the recorded training. Here you will also be able to request more information on dairy topics relevant to your needs.

New Curriculum Launch!

Are you looking for new lessons to implement into your classroom – both in-person or virtually? The U.S. Pork Center of Excellence (USPCE) just launched a resource called DESTINATION PORK. DESTINATION PORK Pathway to the Industry is a comprehensive curriculum focused on pork production; designed to expose and interest high school students in pork industry opportunities. The curriculum was developed by subject matter experts, instructional designers, and piloted by a cohort of agriculture education instructors. Lessons can fill a complete unit in a semester or be used a la carte as desired by topic. These courses are formatted to easily integrate with the Google Classroom structure, giving you flexibility within your classroom. This curriculum is available at no cost to agriculture instructors.
