

Alabama Agriscience Teacher Share Folder

We are living in an ever-changing world which presents new challenges to education daily. As Agricultural Educators, we have the unique ability to bridge the gap between what students are learning in their core classes with real world experience. This is not a challenge we should try to conquer alone. As an Ag Education Family, we can tackle this together and continue to grow our profession.

We have developed a google share folder for all of you to use and contribute to.

Below, is a link to a Google Form designed to collect teaching resources. If you have a really great activity, worksheet, lesson plan, or any other resource you would like to share, please submit it to the Goggle Form.

As resources are submitted, I will add them to the appropriate folder in the Google Drive share folder entitled “AL Agriscience Teacher Share Folder.” All resources shared will be designated as “view only.” This will ensure nothing is deleted or changed accidentally. You will then be able to download the resource and edit it for your use. The share folder can be found here:

There is also a document in the folder titled “Agriscience Resources Request Forum.” This is a google doc where you can request information from one another and discuss ideas. The catch to this is everyone will need to check this periodically for it to work.

I see a great deal of potential in this and believe many new and veteran teachers can utilize this to collaborate and grow educational opportunities for our students. Thank you in advance for the great things you are going to do with this!
